Kobe SALAD is dedicated to the younger generation in Asia who promote the rule of law and develop mutually-beneficial networks of people for peace and prosperity.

This program started in 2013 in Seoul in cooperation with Hanyang University. Since then, SALAD (School of Asian Law and Dispute Management) was held every summer in Kobe and accepts students from various jurisdictions all over Asia and beyond. Kobe SALAD has thus promoted mutual trust based on the understanding and appreciation of various values deriving from the sustainable diversity of social cultures in Asia.

In 2020, because of the Covid-19 pandemic, we could not hold it on the campus of Kobe University. Therefore, online seminars under the name of Kobe SALAD Online 2021 Spring were delivered via Zoom in the early spring and many students within and beyond Asia participated and enjoyed the lectures and workshops given by the excellent scholars and practitioners who also took part from various parts of the globe.

Now, we are hopefully approaching the end of Covid-19 pandemic. but still it seems difficult to organize a large gathering. So, we have again decided to organize another Kobe SALAD Online in the summer of 2022. In the making of this program, we have been strongly supported and encouraged by the academics and practitioners who share in the spirit of promoting inclusive societies supported by mutual understanding with generous exchange of information, expertise and knowledge which will promote the sustainable development of productive relationships and mutual value creation among people. Therefore, we, once again, cordially invite the participation of those who hope to promote the peaceful and prosperous development of societies within and beyond Asia.

Hoping to see all of you via Zoom this year and to meet you all on Rokkodai Campus at Kobe University in the summer of next year.
